WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING

"Jillian was invited by the Women in the Bank network at the Bank of England, to deliver a motivational and inspirational speech about how to get 'the best version of you'. Jillian's talk was engaging, captivating and the feedback from attendees was overwhelmingly positive. Jillian used her own moving story to provide advice on how we can all achieve what we were born to do, using some simple steps, starting with realising what your strengths are and overcoming perceived weaknesses. She spoke in a very relatable manner for the audience and everyone was able to take something away from the talk."

Tara Clarke, Learning and Development Operations Team Leader, Talent and Development, Bank of England

"We had the immense pleasure and privilege of having Jillian with us during one of our flagship events where we were bringing our top Sales performers from across the world (more than 35 different countries). Our intention was to convey some important messages on their future behaviours by talking not only to their brains but primarily to their hearts to maximize the impact. Jillian did an amazing job in linking her personal story and experience to the business context that those people encounter on a daily basis. The power of Jillian's approach is that it can talk to any culture, background and experience. As expected, even though the audience were taken a bit by surprise, we received very positive feed-back from the group as we are confident the memorization rate of Jillian's speech will be much higher than any other."

Silvère Aubriot, Commercial Execution Director, Novo Nordisk, Denmark

It was such a privilege to hear Jillian's remarkable story. She is a woman gifted with many qualities, but what shines through above all is her authenticity. She does not sentimentalise or sensationalise the events of her life; she does need to do so. Instead she speaks the truth with a simple clarity and honesty that captivates and touches. She has witnessed many extreme things, but she distils all of her various life experiences into some simple urgent truths; as such, she is a living embodiment of the power and resilience of the human spirit. For young people today, who may well have anxieties about their future and who are besieged by consumerist messages from the media, it is hard to imagine a better voice to offer welcome reassurance and an enlightened perspective."
